

Eisenhower Endorses Flanders' Statement

House Votes $912 Million Slash In Excise Taxes Beginning April 1

Washington (AP) — The House brushed aside Eisenhower administration opposition yesterday and overwhelmingly passed the first general excise tax cut in more than 20 years.

The bill, sent to the Senate by a 411-3 roll call vote, would trim 912 million dollars a year from excise taxes on dozens of items like admission tickets, jewelry, furs and telephone bills.

The cuts would take effect April 1, three weeks from today. Defeated by a 213-200 vote, was a Democratic move to free from all taxes any movie, sports or similar entertainment ticket costing 50 cents or less.

The bill would drop the excise tax on all admissions from 20 to 10 per cent.

It would postpone — for one year only — about $1,070,000,000 in reductions scheduled under present law for April 1 on liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gas, trucks, buses, beer and wine.

President Eisenhower urged canceling these scheduled reductions, but argued the Treasury can not afford the sweeping tax cuts provided elsewhere in the bill. The administration has announced it will fight when the bill reaches the Senate to soften the revenue blow.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he will make a radio and television address next week outlining his tax philosophy. His press secretary, James C.

Hagerty, said all major networks had been asked for 15 minutes of time next Monday night. No specific time was set.

This was interpreted as a move to bolster the administration's fight against a Democratic move to increase individual income tax exemptions by $100 for each taxpayer and each dependent.

That would save taxpayers about $2,400,000,000 a year, and drive the government that much more in the red. It would relieve millions of taxpayers with low incomes or large families from any income tax bill at all.

The issue threatens to bring one of the biggest and closest congressional battles of this congressional election year. The showdown in the House is scheduled next Wednesday and Thursday, when Democrats are expected to try writing the exemption increase into an 875-page general tax overhaul bill.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House the Republican-sponsored tax program for this year will provide reductions of $7,300,000,000 altogether. He said individuals would receive $4,700,000,000 of these benefits with the remainder going to corporations.

Democrats generally retorted that the overall revision program is loaded with "give-aways" to big business and wealthy stockholders, with only a pittance for the average taxpayer.

In the 411-3 passage of the excise tax cut bill, the three dissenters were all Democrats. Reps. Lyle of Texas, Paul C. Jones of Missouri and Marshall of Minnesota.

Republicans voted solidly against the Democratic notion on admission ticket. Two Democrats broke ranks and joined the opposition. Rep. Brann of Ohio, the House's lone Independent, joined the Republicans. It was an unusual demonstration of party-line solidarity.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee hailed passage of the bill as "a great victory for the American consumer."

He added: "The bill will release hundreds of millions of dollars a year of new purchasing power. It will stimulate business and employment throughout the country."

GOP Drafts Committee Probe Code

By Lee Garrett

Washington (AP) — The Senate Republican policy committee yesterday suggested a seven-point code for conducting committee investigations, but included no provision for enforcing it.

Six of the seven points provided for full committee or subcommittee action in initiating or carrying on investigations, and seemed to be aimed at elimination of one-man operations of the type frequently conducted by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). Among them was a suggested requirement that at least one majority member and one minority member be present at every hearing.

McCarthy gave the off-hand opinion that under that proposal, "no committee could operate if the minority members absented themselves." He said he was "curious to know how they'd force minority members to be present" or, for that matter, all of the majority party members of a committee.

Here is the policy committee's code, drawn up in a form suggested for adoption by the various Senate committees:

"One—An investigating subcommittee of any committee may be authorized only by the action of a majority of the committee.

"Two—No investigating committee or subcommittee is authorized to hold a hearing to hear sworn testimony unless a majority of the members of the committee or subcommittee are present; provided, however, that the committee may authorize the presence of a majority and a minority member to constitute a quorum.

"Three—An investigating committee or subcommittee may not delegate its authority to issue subpoenas except by a vote of the committee or subcommittee.

"Four—No hearing shall be initiated unless the investigating committee or subcommittee has specifically authorized such hearing.

"Five—No hearing of an investigating committee or subcommittee shall be scheduled outside of the District of Columbia except by the majority vote of the committee or subcommittee.

"Six—No confidential testimony taken or confidential material presented in an executive hearing of an investigating committee or subcommittee or any report of the proceedings of such an executive hearing shall be made public, either in whole, or in part or by way of summary, unless authorized by a majority of the members of the committee or subcommittee.

"Seven—Any witness summoned to a public or executive hearing may be accompanied by counsel of his own choosing who shall be permitted while the witness is testifying to advise him of his legal rights."

Praises Senator For Taking Issue With McCarthy

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday that by pointing up the "great danger" of "personal aggrandizement" and a split in the GOP, Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) has performed a service in a speech assailing Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Furthermore, Eisenhower told a news conference, CBS and NBC have met their responsibility for impartiality in giving the Republican party, instead of McCarthy, air time to answer attacks by Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee. The Republicans have picked Vice President Nixon for the reply.

It was "nonsense," the President said, when Stevenson asserted in a speech at Miami Beach, Fla., Saturday night that the GOP is "half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

Thousands Agree With Denunciation

New York (AP) — A telecast denunciation of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) by commentator Edward R. Murrow brought an avalanche of phone calls and telegrams to the Columbia Broadcasting System yesterday.

CBS said an overwhelming majority sided with Murrow's contention on his "See It Now" program Tuesday night that McCarthy repeatedly overstepped the bounds between investigation and persecution.

The network, with wire and phone calls still coming in, gave this tabulation late yesterday: Telephone calls favoring the program, 8,841; protesting, 607. Telegrams favoring the program, 2,764; protesting, 86.

Murrow issued an invitation to McCarthy to reply on a later "See It Now" program, but the network said it had not received any word from the senator.

McCarthy saw Flanders in the Senate yesterday jokingly put both hands around his neck. Flanders jumped in his seat, then both senators laughed.

Eisenhower said he wasn't endorsing every word Flanders said, as he had heard only a bit of the speech reported on television.

Yet his salute to Flanders, his round-about attribution of personal aggrandizement to McCarthy, plus his approval of the way CBS and NBC propose to leave McCarthy out of the rebuttal to Stevenson, added up to perhaps the heaviest slap the President has taken at the controversial senator from Wisconsin.

The extent of the swing became even more apparent when the White House released large sections of the stenographic transcript of the news conference for direct quotation including almost every sentence having a bearing on McCarthy.

McCarthy Aide Assigned To Zwicker Camp

Washington (AP) — Roy Cohn, chief counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee which Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) heads, said yesterday he has been ordered to report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., for training as a National Guard officer June 12-25.

Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commandant of the camp, has been a storm center in the row between McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens.

The secretary has accused McCarthy of using abusive language in questioning Zwicker, a decorated hero of World War II. A transcript of the questioning of Zwicker made public by McCarthy shows the senator told Zwicker he was "not fit" to hold any Army command.

Cohn said his orders were "a matter of routine." He said he has been a National Guardsman about seven years. A first lieutenant, he said he will serve as "a staff specialist" at Camp Kilmer.

Detectives said Magaw confessed he stole a total of $654 in the hotel since he was released Feb. 13 from the workhouse after serving his second term for burglary.

Chicago (AP) — Twelve passengers aboard the Pennsylvania Railroad's Liberty Limited were injured yesterday in a collision of the limited and the rear of a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy's Minneapolis Zephyr backing into huge Union Station.

Philadelphia (AP) — William L. McLean Jr., 58, vice president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Bulletin, died of a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday at Lankenau Hospital.

McLean was the brother of Robert McLean, president of the Bulletin Co. and president of the Associated Press.

William McLean was taken to Lankenau Hospital after being stricken at his home yesterday afternoon. He died a short while later.

Dulles Pledges U.S. Economic Cooperation

Caracas, Venezuela (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles yesterday pledged U. S. economic cooperation with Latin America. This was underscored by an invitation for a hemisphere economic conference in Washington.

Latin American delegates at the 10th Inter-American Conference cheered the invitation to meet to work out answers to specific economic problems.

Support continued to grow, meanwhile, for Dulles' proposals for joint action to thwart Communist designs on the Western Hemisphere.

No date was set for the Washington conference.

U.S. Expected To Assure Rhee Against Sellout

Washington (AP) — The United States is expected to give South Korea assurances soon that there will be no "sellout" of its vital interests at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far Eastern peace.

At the same time, informed sources here said, the United States is due to invite the Singman Rhee government to assign a representative to consult with American officials on policies to be followed in dealing with Communist governments in the Geneva meeting.

President Rhee indicated at Seoul yesterday he will send a delegation to Geneva for the conference opening April 26, but he said he wants assurances and clarification on the American position regarding Korean negotiations there.

The Geneva conference was agreed upon by Russia and the Western powers at the Big Four meeting in Berlin last month. It will actually be two conferences, one concerned with negotiating a permanent settlement in divided Korea and the other aimed at negotiating peace in Indochina.

Rejects Lockout Bar

Washington (AP) — The House Labor Committee yesterday turned down a proposal to revise the Taft-Hartley Act to bar industry-wide strikes and lockouts.

Congress Must Authorize War, Ike Declares

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower declared yesterday the massive military might America has poised for instant use will never go to war without prior congressional approval.

Eisenhower said that was his answer to a news conference question about what the United States would do if an American technician is killed or captured in Indochina.

He said he wanted it clearly understood. Later, he authorized direct quotation of his exact words.

Drumming on the table before him and stamping his foot, the President asserted he is as concerned about the country's security as any person alive.

"I am doing nothing in the security departments that I don't believe is for the welfare and the security and the continued safety of the United States of America," Eisenhower asserted, adding:

"And I am not going to demagogue about it."

That came in reply to a request for comment on a speech last Saturday night by Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee Eisenhower defeated in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Stevenson had questioned whether the military "new look" left the nation with "the grim choice of inaction or a thermonuclear holocaust."

Tear Gas, Water Subdue Rioters In Chicago Jail

Chicago (AP) — Tear gas and fire hoses subdued 18 shouting, cursing prisoners last night after they had rioted for six hours in the Cook County jail.

"We've had enough, we've had enough," one of the felons shouted from the large day room where they had barricaded themselves.

That shout of surrender came after more than 50 tear gas bombs had been lobbed into the day room — its windows long since broken — and firemen had poured tons of water into it from high pressure hoses.

Churchill Under Strong Pressure To Retire As Prime Minister When Queen Returns Home

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
Central Press Correspondent

London — Sir Winston Churchill, whom future historians possibly may agree was the most colorful, eloquent and ablest world statesman of his day, is generally expected to retire as British prime minister this spring.

That Churchill is planning to retire in the near future is now accepted as a certainty. The only point which is still being actively debated is when. Cyril Osborne, a Tory member of parliament, probably voiced the opinion of most of his associates when he recently told his constituents: "Nobody knows when it will come, but many think it will be when the queen returns."

This date in the middle of May will enable Churchill, while still active and the most powerful political voice in Europe, to choose as his successor his favored heir, Anthony Eden. And it has another advantage.

One of the queen's first engagements, on her return to England, is to install Sir Winston as a Knight of the Garter in St. George's Chapel at Windsor.

There is increasing evidence that the Tory party leaders would welcome this occasion as the proper moment for Churchill to announce his retirement from active political life. It is believed that the one chance of upsetting this schedule is the announcement by Churchill of some new and wholly unexpected means of succeeding in his final ambition of securing for the world "a sure and lasting peace."

Even his most ardent supporters, however, have little hope of any such move by Churchill, since his suggestion that he fly to Moscow for a two-man meeting with Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov received such a chilly reception.

(An Associated Press dispatch from London yesterday said Churchill's wife and doctors have joined in urging the old warrior to step down. Some say Churchill will keep his seat in Parliament after resigning as prime minister).

Churchill's resignation this spring would give Tory leaders time for preparation for a general election if it should be held this autumn.

The Barrage of strikes and the increasingly restive British labor have convinced many party strategists that it would be better to have a general election this year, rather than wait until later when the economic situation might be worse.

Even with the retirement of Churchill they feel they could still count on help from his great prestige, and his resignation in the brilliant glare of royal honors. There is the help, they feel, that would come from the promise held out by a new, younger and popular leader, as well as the notable economic achievements of Chancellor of the Exchequer "Rab" Butler.

Downtrend In Employment Shows Signs Of Slackening

Washington (AP) — The Labor Department yesterday reported non-farm employment dropped by 300,000 in February but showed a slackening in the jobless trend.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said February factory employ-

Deputies Back Italian Leader

Rome (AP) — The Italian Chamber of Deputies last night voted confidence in Premier Mario Scelba and his program of mild social reform and friendship with the West.

Scelba's four-party coalition won by a vote of 309 to 283 after a long and bitter debate.

The Christian Democrat Premier squeezed out a similar vote of confidence in the Senate on Feb. 26, winning a five-vote margin.

Scelba, a strong foe of Communism, is thus confirmed in office and the latest of periodic political crises, which have plagued Italy since the elections of June 7, appeared to be temporarily ended.

The vote came after a stormy session in which the Premier presented his government program and berated both the Communist left and the Monarchist right.

Warns Of Red Grab

ment declined by 150,000 from January. He said non-manufacturing employment, although also down 150,000, was at a record high for this season.

"The employment downtrend of the past year continued through February but with signs of slowing down in the rate of decline," Mitchell said in a statement.

He said unemployment measured by claims for compensation insurance rose in February. Toward the end of the month, however, the rate of new claims was falling off "by more than the usual," he said.

Non-farm employment is estimated each month by the Labor Department's statistics bureau. The survey, based on employer reports, excludes farm workers, the self employed, domestic servants and unpaid family workers.

The 300,000 decline in non-farm employment indicated the Census Bureau's report on all February employment would show an increase over the 3,087,000 jobless reported for January. The February employment report is due in a day or so.

The Labor Department estimated non-farm employment in February at 47½ million, about 900,000 lower than a year ago. All industry groups, except paper and printing, showed some drop in employment for the year.

The 150,000 February drop in factory employment was the smallest decline for any month since last fall.

Lenten Meditation

In an age that has been referred to as the aspirin age, in a society where many women consider it part of living to sit and comfortably sup tea while they relay to one another their symptoms and ailments, where a hypochondriac is not a rare species, where men always air their gripes and their rights, and never speak of their shortcomings and their obligations, sacrifice, penance and fasting seem as incongruous and out of place as a soldier in medieval armor with a fatigue cap, or as Simon Legree wrapt in prayer. Modern man hates suffering, despises penance, and is at a loss to explain sickness.

Isn't it a strange phenomenon, that modern man who denies sin, refuses guilt, is the same man who does not know what to make of suffering which is consequent of Adam's sin, ignores death which came as a result of Adam's sin, and hates all form of penance which is necessary to all sinners.

Modern man will ever reject self-denial, penance and fasting, until he accepts the fact that he is a creature, subject to His Creator and responsible for and guilty of all violations of His Creator's commands. Sin is a fact like potatoes is a fact. If I am a sinner then I must atone for sin. Any attempt to rationalize and explain away sin results in neurosis and insanity. There are many people on psychoanalysts couches, for whom confession of guilt and penance is the only remedy.

Modern man's headaches, can only be drugged by aspirins, they can be cured only by prayer and penance.

Commission Clears Curran Of Misconduct

New York (AP)—A special probe commission yesterday cleared Republican Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran of any wrongdoing in a $10,000 Yonkers raceway legal deal.

The Moreland Act Commission investigating the scandal-ridden harness racing industry also absolved Curran of any taint of hidden ownership in the fabulously profitable Westchester County track.

"There was nothing illegal, unethical or improper . . .," said a unanimous commission statement on Curran's conduct. Two of the four commissioners are Democrats.

It was the first time the five-month-old commission passed judgment on a political witness although a number of GOP state bigwigs have been mixed up in the $50 million-dollar-a-year harness track industry.

Curran, 55, had been on a hot spot since last week when he testified he collected $10,000 for introducing a Yonkers harness promoter to William F. Bleakley, Westchester County Republican leader. Bleakley had a race track to sell and Yonkers raceway wanted it.

Just recently it was called to the attention of the Stroudsburg Shade Tree Commission that some of our citizens are of the opinion that there has been unnecessary shade tree removals in our Community, and that the pruning work being done around utility wires is without prior planning or consideration. This is a far cry from what is actually happening so the Shade Tree Commission feels that our citizens should be acquainted with the following facts:

1. The Shade Tree Commission has jurisdiction over only those trees located along the curb line or on other Borough Property—none whatsoever over those located on the inside of property lines.

2. The Commission, at all times, puts the value and preservation of our trees first and foremost in its plans. Its prime objects are the planting of new trees wherever feasible—care of older trees and removal of dangerous or diseased trees.

3. No tree removals are authorized without prior inspection and careful consideration by the Commission. Removals are made, in most cases, because of decayed interiors of trees and therefore a dangerous hazard to the riding or walking public. New street construction necessitates removal of some healthy trees, but, wherever possible, efforts are made to save such healthy trees. Also, the Commission has authorized the removal of all Silver Maples, wherever possible, irrespective of their condition, because of their injurious rooting habits and brittleness of top limbs when tree attains great heights. Tree removals are frequently requested by adjacent property owners, if such removals are justified they are authorized, if not, they are refused.

4. The Commission feels that with the appropriations made to date, a great deal of constructive work has been done and that our town would be in a deplorable state, insofar as its trees are concerned, had not the foresightedness of our various Borough officials been in evidence over the past years. The work done has not been without constant vigilance and planning.

5. The Commission welcomes constructive suggestions or criticisms, and is prepared to clarify and justify its position on matters pertaining to our Shade Trees, when called upon to do so.

Grass-Legume Pasture Best For Soil-Water Conservation

By A. Norman Dietrick
SCS Technician

Intensive pasture management is assuming increased importance as a soil and water conservation measure. A good stand of grass and legumes has long been recognized as the best possible type of cover soil of trees.

Too often, however, pastures were overgrazed or have gone without lime or fertilizer for many years. A common practice was to turn the cattle out to pasture very early in the spring, letting them remain on the same pasture all summer and late into the fall.

This type of mismanagement often resulted in the elimination of the more desirable grasses and legumes and exposure of the raw soil to the elements. Severe erosion even in pastures was common.

Good pasture management entails several operations and practices. Lime requirements must be met, a good seed bed prepared, adequate fertilization, and an adaptable seed mixture sowed. Grazing should be deferred until a lush growth has been attained, or until the soil is no longer wet enough to be damaged by the cattle.

Periodic mowing should be used to eliminate weeds and woody growth which is unpalatable. And the pasture should be divided into several plots to permit rotation grazing which gives the plants a rest period in which to recuperate.

This will minimize the danger of soil compaction, waste, and overgrazing in certain areas. Maximum production will be the result, and at the same time loss of soil and water will be reduced to a negligible amount.

Rev. Hackman Plans Series Of Services

Bangor—Rev. W. L. Hackman yesterday announced the opening of special services in connection with the Spiritual Life Mission in the First Methodist Church on Sunday, March 14, with meetings to be held nightly March 16 through 19.

Rev. Robert B. Allen, of New Jersey, will be the exchange pastor, and will deliver the sermon Sunday at 11 a.m. He also announced that the services will be broadcast over station WVPO on March 21 at 11 a.m.

March 22 and 23, Rev. Hackman will attend a preaching convocation in Buck Hill Falls, and March 26 and 27 he has been asked to be a leader of the North District Youth Conference in Frankford. Four young people of the local church are registered to attend.

March 28, Dr. Paul W. Poley, district superintendent, will conduct the fourth quarterly conference. Mid-week services will be held each Wednesday night during Lent. Rev. Hackman announced. Mrs. Robert Youton, secretary; John W. Jones, treasurer and Raymond Stancombe, trustee, made routine reports.

The Blood You Give Helps Someone Live!

Right now blood is needed by thousands of men, women and children for surgery and medical treatment. It is needed, too, to build a national reserve of blood derivatives as "life insurance" for hundreds of thousands in times of disaster. But blood cannot be mined or manufactured. We must give it. And the time to give it is—now!

Care Urged When Burning Paper, Trash

Arlington Heights—Clyde White, Stroud Township fire chief last night issued a warning to residents to exert more care when burning papers and rubbish to prevent the spread of grass blazes which have cropped up frequently this week.

White's announcement followed a grass fire at 1045 a. m. yesterday on Chipperfield Drive. White said the fire company responded but the fire was under control when they reached the scene.

Churchill Under Pressure To Retire This Spring

While this conference had been called at the insistence of Churchill, and while American and French delegates understood that he intended to make a starting proposal for the relief of world tension, the aged statesman did not bother even to mention his dream of flying alone to Moscow for a face-to-face meeting with Premier Malenkov.

The delegates were startled at one session, after President Eisenhower had made clear the firmness of the United States toward Russia. Churchill had appeared to be on the point of breaking down emotionally.

Even more disconcerting to the English is that at the Bermuda Conference it was the President of the United States and not the prime minister of Great Britain who stole the show.

What galvanized the world was nothing done at Bermuda, but the speech made by President Eisenhower to the United Nations after the conference, in which he suggested that the great powers unite in using a portion of their atomic raw material and facilities in the development of atomic power for peaceful purposes.

His doctors are urging Churchill to retire from political life. So are Lady Churchill and some of his close personal friends.

It seems that they will have their wishes granted before long, unless the aged statesman brings another miracle out of his hat. It is the opinion of English newspapers and political leaders of both parties that no such miracle will happen.

Philip Easton Dies While In Florida

Philip R. Easton, of 721 Ann St., Stroudsburg, died Tuesday night in Englewood, Fla., where he had gone to combat a long illness.

Services will be announced later. He was a Stroudsburg native; a member of Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian Churches.

Mr. Easton was owner of the General Flooring Co. at Bank Alley, Stroudsburg. He started the business 12 years ago after leaving the lumber business in Montana.

He was a veteran and served in Europe in World War Two.

Surviving are his wife, Marjorie; sister, Mrs. C. T. Willis, Englewood, N. J.; brothers, Rev. William Easton and Dr. Alfred Rhodes, Tobyhanna; nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Maxwell Dies At 83

Mrs. Hallie Regina Maxwell, 83, of 707 Scott St., Stroudsburg, died in General Hospital at 10:30 a. m. yesterday. She had been hospitalized ten days.

She was born in Richland County, Ohio, the daughter of the late Hiram and Mary Hammett Williams. She had lived in that state and New York City prior to moving to Stroudsburg six weeks ago.

She was the widow of Richard Russell Maxwell; a member of the Presbyterian Church and active in church affairs.

Surviving are her two sons, Dr. Paul R. Maxwell, Delaware Water Gap; and Richard W. Maxwell, of East Stroudsburg RD; nine grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. W. W. Webb and one brother, Clarence L. Williams, both of Mansfield, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at Jones Memorial Home, Mansfield, Ohio with interment in the Mansfield Cemetery. William R. Thomas is in charge of local arrangements.

Belts Made By Blind Girl Donated To Salvation Army

Empire Box Corp. employees yesterday turned over belts purchased from Irene Van Why, 21-year-old blind girl, to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy.

Employees, headed by Ray Silver, collected $36 for the girl several months ago after it was learned on Irene's 21st birthday that the production of belts, wallets and key rings, all made from leather, was an aid in her quest to become self-sustaining.

Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Why, 87 N. Second St., Stroudsburg, agreed to sell her leather products, and Empire workers decided to donate them to the Salvation Army.

It also was learned yesterday that East Stroudsburg Fire Co. and its auxiliary has placed a large order with the girl. She is awaiting arrival of materials to begin another supply.

Pocono Township School District Burns Bonds Of Indebtedness At Ceremony

Monroe County's oldest consolidated school burned its bonds of indebtedness last night.

In a symbolic program presented before parents, teachers and community residents, the Pocono Township School Board president, Dr. Edward T. Horn Jr., outlined the history of the indebtedness bond.

Written records were not available for preparing the history, Horn explained.

The records kept by the school board were destroyed by fire years ago. To piece out the background, Horn had contacted surviving members of the school board responsible, in large part, for construction of the Tannersville school.

Members of that first board were Dr. A. A. Whitman, Ira Hay, Harry Rabin, Harry Werkheiser Sr. and Howard Youngken. Two are still living.

The county's first consolidated school, Pocono Township School, was constructed in 1923, Horn told his audience. It was built by G. Alvin Shook, area contractor.

The decision to build the school, replacing seven one-room schools in the district, followed closely on State legislation placing a minimum enrollment on the one-roomers.

There was considerable opposition to the consolidation move, Horn noted. But a $25,000 bond issue was floated with the approval of the residents.

Shortly thereafter the present school site was purchased from Milo Kister, and the building was begun.

In 1928 another $18,000 bond issue made possible the first addition to the old building. The money was raised on short-term notes.

By 1934, the original bond had been reduced to $9,000 indebtedness. Then a second addition was placed on the building and the indebtedness was raised again.

Payments on the issue continued until last year—1953. At that time school directors discovered that only four payments of $2,000 each remained.

Investigation by the school board revealed that the district could save $68.87 through payment of the lump sum still owed. This was done, Horn said, since the 1952-53 financial year had been a good one.

With payment of the total "now the entire indebtedness has been cleared," the board president said.

On the stage of the Pocono school auditorium, Horn addressed his closing remarks to an audience which included Floyd Hay, present secretary of the board; John C. Litts and Walter H. Sebring, county superintendent of schools and his assistant and George A. Learn Jr., president of the district's PTA.

Placing the bonds on an aluminum container in the center of the stage, Horn quietly addressed the 90 persons assembled in the auditorium.

"... we now consign these bonds to be consumed by flames—thus eradicating us from all indebtedness..."

Judge Rhodes Files For Both Nominations

Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president of Pennsylvania's Superior Court, yesterday filed petitions with the Bureau of Elections, Harrisburg, for both the Democratic and Republican nominations.

Judge Rhodes, now in his second ten-year term on the Superior Court bench and Judge F. Clair Ross, are both Democrats seeking re-election. Judge Robert Woodside, a Republican, is also seeking election.

The Democratic State Committee has endorsed the "sitting judge principle" which includes Judge Woodside, a Republican.

Some GOP leaders have announced they favored the "sitting judge" principle for this year's election, but others have stymied any formal approval of non-partisan backing for re-election of judges.

The Philadelphia Republican organization, successful in defeating Democrats in the last municipal election with a "sitting judge" principle endorsement which includes some Democratic judges, are reported determined to abide by the sitting judge principle in this year's election regardless of State GOP Committee action.

State Republican leaders will meet in Harrisburg Saturday to wind up details on their primary campaign which includes a campaign manager and probable new state chairman for this year's gubernatorial race.

Accidents cause about 100,000 deaths a year in the United States.

Democrats File Papers For Office

Monroe County Democrats filed their first petitions yesterday at the Courthouse—as candidates for committeemen.

They were Maurice C. Getz, Kunkletown RD1, and Richard R. Rinker, Scioto.

Until yesterday it had been a strictly Republican show. And so far, Republican B. K. Williams, running for party chairman, is the only one who has filed for anything but committeeman or woman.

Petitions entered yesterday on the Republican side were for Effie K. K. Woods, East Stroudsburg RD3; Margaret Clapper, Minisink Hills; Sadie E. Raseley, Ross Township; Lulu E. Hilliard, Stroudsburg RD3; and Bess P. Bachman, Stroudsburg Fifth Ward, all seeking committee posts.

What's The Score?

The public now knows a little more about the extent of subversion on the federal payroll, thanks to a report given by Phillip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission. But only a little—we need to know a lot more.

Mr. Young attempted a partial explanation of the 2429 cases in which employees were separated from the federal service between May, 1952, and last Dec. 31, under the administration of President Eisenhower.

He said that 383 of the 2429 employees had something in their personnel files of a "subversive nature."

You can't assume from that, however, that all of these 383 were fired for disloyalty. And Mr. Young was unable to say how many were so discharged.

Some of these 383 could have been employees who resigned, for one reason or another, not necessarily connected with any charges of subversion, and without any pressure on them to get out.

The "subversive nature" of material in the personnel files doesn't necessarily indicate that the subject was a disloyal citizen, wittingly or unwittingly. It could have related to drunkenness, or some other personal habit, which would make the employee a bad risk in certain sensitive positions without implying any disloyalty.

In some cases, it was reported, there were notations on an employee's file because he had relatives behind the "Iron Curtain" and thus might be subject to pressure or blackmail.

And we still don't know how many of the 2429 "security risks" were fired or simply resigned. The words "separation from the service" can cover a good many methods of leaving the payroll.

All Mr. Young has done is provide an outside limit on the number of genuine subversives among those who left the federal payroll during nine months of 1953. Within that limit of 383, the number could be anywhere from 1 to 383.

The topic of security firings was brought up by members of the Eisenhower Administration with the apparent intent to show that it is being vigilant about subversives in the government.

The public still is entitled to know what's what in this regard, and the lump-sum figures are an unfair method of reporting on a matter which involves personal reputations and confidence in the federal government. Mr. Young's statement is just a start. Let's have more information.

Padded Payrolls

The recent conviction of a third congressman for office payroll tapping within the space of a few years suggests another look at the proposal of Rep. Burdick, North Dakota Republican. It would make it a felony for a senator or representative to receive any money that is, or is supposed to be, paid to an employee on his office staff.

That sort of thing is against the law anyway, but Congress has done little to discourage it. All three cases were originated as well as prosecuted by the Department of Justice, and none of the three individuals was punished by Congress.

The Burdick proposal, to require strictly-worded payroll affidavit from each congressman at the end of each session, might not eliminate kickbacks and payroll padding—but it surely would discourage them.

Congress should keep its own nest clean, not wait for the courts to police it. One way is to keep its payrolls open to public inspection—which the Senate consistently refuses to do—and another is to provide swift and automatic punishment by Congress itself for violators.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Letter To A Harassed Proxy

Dear Joe:

You are being hit because you stop short of hounding Joe McCarthy. In oil of depicting him to the public, Helen A. Little, a little disapproval is not enough for some folks. They want you to blow your stack, skin Joe alive, give a demonstration in the prevailing hysterics and hit Senatorial spy hunters with everything but the White House kitchen sink. But in my book you are keeping cool because:

1. — A kid surrounded in an icy dugout, with capture or death near, rates higher with you than any defiant, fat and prosperous witness refusing to come clean on whether he has mixed with traitors or been a party to selling out America.

2. — A legless and armless kid (no Fifth Amendment could keep the shrapnel off) stirs your heart more than a chesty witness refusing to tell a Senate subcommittee whether he has any truck with the enemy.

3. — As a military commander you have seen too many kids die in the fight against determined enemies (hidden or visible) to favor Emily Post tactics in any effort to root them out.

4. — You know that this country is not playing marbles but is facing the greatest threat in its history from an enemy that puts his secret weapon thieves into every branch of government if possible.

5. — You are sure that even one enemy agent in a spot where he can help destroy America is too many.

6. — As a general who directed a world war against a foe who had "snuck" into American life pretty extensively, you know first-hand the price of treachery.

7. — You believe that in the homes of America the safety of thousands of boys who may yet be sent into a horrible world war, perhaps to be killed and crippled for life, is of greater concern than whether the features of witnesses before a Senate Committee are slightly ruffled and their blood pressure raised.

8. — You are more moved by a white cross than a black book and a purple blast at a "Red" witness.

9. — Heartbreak Hill holds a deeper place in your thoughts than Clam-up Ridge.

10. — You feel that if "On the double" has to be answered fast by a G. I., it's not too much to shout, "Come clean!" to a suspected spy or saboteur.

11. — You have seen enough Joe to be convinced that one G. I. dead in a pool of blood upsets more people more than the walls of a lot of defiant, nose-thumbing contemptuous witnesses who find "Were you telling the truth when you signed your loyalty oath?" and "Have you ever received any directives from Moscow?" too tough to be endured.

So don't be disturbed by your critics, like. It is my hunch that, while they think Joe McCarthy lacks finesse and is hard to take at times, the rank and file of the American people want the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about enemy agents in sensitive positions no matter who gets ulcers.

Testimony in New York's trotting-track, big-dough scandals shows politicians and statesmen so deep in the business that they develop spavins in the rush for their "cut" . . . They are now called "Giddap statesmen" . . . Some of them did so much better than the horses that they are now eligible as Hambletonian entries . . . The British Government has announced its rules for British TV, declaring that it shall be "predominantly British in tone and style" . . . This amounts to a strict anti-laughter policy . . . The government specifies that "commercial shall not be so long as to detract from the value of a program" . . . It isn't always the length, boys; we in America have a lot of very short sales pitches that drive us nuts . . . "Privacy" won a Gulfstream Park race in a manner that showed it wanted to be alone.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Guided Missile Threat To Air Traffic Safety

Washington. — Guided missile development has reached the point of raising serious problems of air traffic safety.

These "push-button" weapons are not a hazard as yet to the commercial airlines. But this possibility looms so immediately important that the Civil Aeronautics Administration is already studying the matter. The agency is asking for extra funds in its budget to deal with this new and potentially dangerous air control situation.

Administrator F. B. Lee, head of the CAA, disclosed this at a private meeting with members of the House Appropriations Committee. Most of the discussions dealt with classified matters and cannot be revealed. But it is possible to report that Lee stressed that progress in guided missiles is so advanced that consideration must be given to protecting commercial airways.

"The military are spending hundreds of millions of dollars developing guided missiles for tactical and other purposes," he declared. "These weapons are highly secret, but they have many implications so far as the future of our air traffic control system is concerned."

Two cylinder-type weapons, now undergoing extensive tests, are of particular concern to the CAA. Lee also stated, in response to questions, that guided missiles under development have been reported by uniformed observers as "flying saucers."

Bull's-Eye — Washington's glibby taxi drivers have a new quip. Representative Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass.), tireless head of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, hailed a cab and asked to be taken to the "House side of the Capitol."

"Ah, the shooting gallery," grinned the driver. "Better put on your bullet-proof vest. It's dangerous there."

Wielding the Ax — The Budget Bureau is forcing the suspension of ocean and air navigation surveys that are vitally necessary for defense purposes in the Arctic.

The Bureau's reason for doing this is to save $1,118,000. That's what Admiral Robert Studds, Director of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, charged at a closed-door meeting of the House Appropriations Committee.

He declared the Budget Bureau had slashed the funds required to complete navigational surveys requested by the Navy in highly strategic Alaskan areas, including Bering Strait, the dangerous waterway that separates Alaska from Russian Siberia.

Studds stated these surveys, in progress since the start of the cold war, will have to be discontinued because his budget was cut from $6,818,000 to $5,700,000. "We have been informed," said Representative Prince Preston (D., Ga.), "that you have been making these surveys for the Navy."

"That is correct," replied Studds. "The Navy has been making these surveys for the Navy."

Schine, McCarthy Consultant, Subjected To Harassment After Induction In Army

I was thumbing through an issue of "Life" magazine to look at the pictures and there big as a skyscraper was a picture of David Schine, filling most of the page, all stiff and stern like a Coldstream Guard on parade.

Schine is a plain G. I. without frills, learning to be a military cop, doing a 16-week period of basic training, his nose rubbed in the truck just to show him that all men are equal in the Army, except those who are coddled, and he is not being coddled. At Fort Dix, he was made into a celebrity by the Army co-operating with Left-Wing journalists; at Camp Gordon, at any rate, he is in a proper military atmosphere.

But does he have to be a model for a picture magazine too? What part of the military training is that? David Schine, I am sure, did not want to be a model for Harry Luce. Who in Washington ordered the command at Camp Gordon to require a soldier to be a Luce model? Schine is a pawn in a political game, in a fight among politicians. Who in the Army can require a soldier to pose like a bathing beauty for a private magazine, that makes money out of pictures?

David Schine was conscripted into the Army at the age of 26. He is a Harvard graduate, an executive of a large hotel and movie house corporation. He had served a year overseas in the Army Transport Service. He has had a long experience as Chief Consultant for the McCarthy Committee without salary. He initiated and carried through the successful Voice of America Investigation and he started the Fort Monmouth Investigation. His career on the record makes him definite officer material.

Because of his connection with the McCarthy Committee, and only for that reason as I know, he was not given a chance that has been given to thousands of similarly placed young men to be an officer. So he went in as a G. I. Does he have to be selected out of millions of troops for press conferences and photographs and modelling? There is a pointed harassment in all this that seems unfair. What does one have to do to be protected these days, join the Communist Party?

Schine was yanked into the Army while he was actually engaged in an investigation of the Army. Schine was not given time to complete his work. An investigation might be made to find out how many young men at this particular time were given delays for one reason or another. The Senate committee made arrangements with the Army for a member of its staff to visit Schine off hours to go over matters which Schine was handling and he was given some week-ends to complete the job.

The Left-Wing press made a hullabaloo about all this. Their reporters were creeping all over Fort Knox, interviewing everyone from generals to privates to uncover any special privileges for Schine. Then they found that he was wearing his own boots and that was bandied about as though it had never happened before. When he was sent to Camp Gordon in Georgia, it was assumed that Schine would be free from the taint of having served his country against the Communists. Perhaps he would be permitted to clean latrines in peace. Maybe his next operation will be to sit for a portrait of the best-dressed M. P. Or maybe, he might serve as a Judo team in a vaudeville house!

Had Schine not worked on the McCarthy Committee, had he stayed quietly in the hotel business, the likelihood is that nobody would have yanked him into the Army at this time when there is no war and foot-soldiers are mostly an expense. Be that as it may, the reason that he has become a subject for notoriety is that the Left-Wing press reporters in Washington, devoting themselves to splitting the Republican Party, scare the wits out of Army officials. The impression even goes the rounds that Schine was a hostage to keep McCarthy in line.

McCarthy did not respond to that and Schine got a rough deal with no privileges, no exceptions, not even an acknowledgment of his education, experience and undoubted abilities.

This is written to keep the record straight, although there is more to tell.

The term court plaster is so named from the old custom of English ladies at court wearing specks of black plaster on their faces.

Florida, and especially Miami, has been attracted to Florida unless Florida were a state to which not only bathing beauties but millions of other people WANT to come.

Orange juice definitely is a NATIVE product and did not even have to be imported. Almost every real estate development here advertises "Free Orange Juice" for all who come not only to buy but just to look. And here is something else. The papers are full of stories about the increase in coffee prices. But every Florida restaurant at which we have eaten, keeps on pouring one cup of coffee after the other without charging anything for any more than the first cup. If the meal itself is very expensive, it still gives one a warm feeling to get such a precious liquid as coffee FREE.

Up in New England where we live, and in many of the other more conservative states, people seem to be afraid to talk about their attractions, of which certainly there are many, and so people think they are barren, undesirable states.

Yet, what could be more beautiful than a New England Spring or a Pennsylvania autumn or, in its way—the corn fields of Iowa in the middle of Summer.

I haven't an awful lot of use for press agents. But it might be a darn good idea for the more bashful states to import a few of them and have them get busy with their typewriters.

Historians estimate it cost Christopher Columbus the equivalent of $26,000 to discover America. His payroll for the 90 men aboard his three ships amounted to about $3,500 a month.

In Russian medical schools women number as many as one half of the student body compared to five to 10 per cent in the United States.

Birds in the United States consume between three and four thousand tons of insects annually.

The Mason-Dixon line stretching along the southern Pennsylvania-northern Maryland border was established to settle disputes over private land grants and not as a dividing line between North and South.

Fun, says a noted medico, is the cheapest of medicines. Ha! Ha-ha! Ha-ha-ha! By golly, we feel better already!

A bee, according to Factographs, must fly back and forth a total of 500 miles to gather a spoonful of honey. And then—look who gets it—you!

Age breeds forgetfulness. Granddad, who is annoyed because Junior always acts as a space pirate, forgets he once believed he was Jesse James.

Chile, we read, has a bird that barks like a dog. Better take another look, it might be a dog that looks like a bird.

A United States cook suggests that hors d'oeuvres should be given a truly American name. O. K., agrees the man at the next desk, how about "Indigestibles"?

A queen bee lays about two thousand eggs a day.

Accounting Of Results Essential

—by Leonard Randolph

Benefits are big business in America today. Hardly a day goes by that one organization or another doesn't come up with an idea for staging a show or giving a concert for "the benefit of" one or more charitable organizations.

This, of course, is a marvelous thing. Banded together a lot of people put in a whole of a lot of time, talent and temper to raise in a few hundred dollars for their favorite charity. One and all these public-spirited citizens deserve the heartfelt gratitude of the community in which they live.

There is a tendency, however, among organizations sponsoring benefits to ignore the public once the entertainment has been given. During the preparatory days before the benefit, newspapers and radio stations are literally flooded with communiques on the progress being made. A hundred "gimmicks" are introduced to pump up a little extra activity on the ticket-buying front.

Nearly always, these efforts are successful. The newspapers and radio stations give their wholehearted support to the enterprise because they believe firmly in the cause espoused. Like the public to which the appeal is being made, the newspapers and radio stations are solidly behind the effort to better their community, regardless of whose effort it may be.

All goes well until the night of the performance, in the current pattern of things. On that night, the newspaper and radio station generally attempts—as a matter of responsibility to the public—to find out how much money has been brought in through the benefit. It is at this point that some organizations apparently decide that "publicity is no good."

Sometimes the chairman in charge of the group will stall off any estimates with a "We really just don't know yet. We haven't counted." Sometimes it's a more blunt "We're not ready to tell you."

Whichever it may be, one thing is quite apparent by now. When any group or organization sponsors a benefit, regardless of how worthy, that organization is contracting a responsibility to the public. The men and women who buy tickets or purchase space in the benefit program have every right to know whether or not the sale has been successful. Most of them want to know.

This means, basically, that some system for making an estimate of the gross and net income from the benefit should be evolved before the final days of the drive. Then—just as soon as possible after the boxoffice has closed on the night of the performance—the estimated gross and net should be announced.

Shortly thereafter a full, detailed report should be made to the public at large.

Running a benefit is not at all dissimilar to accepting a non-salaried post at the head of a community project using community funds. An accounting should be made to the public whose funds—like the taxes for government—make the whole thing possible in the long run.

John Lesoine Shows Slides To Kiwanians

Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club members were taken on a fishing trip to Canada, via colored slides, by John R. Lesoine at the meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon. L. Hayden Jones was program chairman.

Lesoine's slides showed many interesting incidents of his trip. He also presented slides of Monroe County scenes.

Stroudsburg club was represented by seven members at the Pottstown club meeting Tuesday night. The local club had the largest delegation represented, traveled the longest distance and D. A. Hansen, vice president, was awarded the plaque for the best "tail" story.

Others in the party making the trip were Elwood Hintz, Dr. H. C. Cryder, J. J. Cooley, J. B. Dunkelberger, Dr. C. W. Dupee, president, and H. L. Sutton. In April a delegation will visit the Riegelsville club, and, possibly at Sellersville tomorrow night, when Sam Wagner, Erie, governor of the Pennsylvania District, Kiwanis International, makes an official visit there.

Gilbert L. Smrz and Larry W. Ross were welcomed back from Hollywood, Fla. Robert R. Hellman, Arlington Heights, was removed to the University Hospital, New York City, yesterday afternoon for treatment for an illness.

Alan W. Keiper, boys' and girls' work committee chairman, reported progress in arrangements for the annual Wyckoff Dept. store fashion show, sponsored by the club, to be held at Stroudsburg High School auditorium Friday night, April 9, at 8:30. Cornelia Stabler Gilam will present three skits in connection with the show. Models will be representatives from the various women's clubs of the community. Betty Green, The Daily Record Paris representative, will be the narrator.

President Dupee welcomed Arthur H. Stinson, of the U. S. State Dept., Berlin, Germany, who sets sail today to resume his duties; Rev. W. F. Wunder, of East Stroudsburg, and Robert Buzby, New York City, as guests.

West End Lions Announce Cast For March 19-20 Play

Brookheadsville. Plans are under way for the West End Lions Club production of "Flying High," all local talent play, to be presented March 19 and 20 in the Chestnut Hill High School Auditorium for the benefit of the Youth Center.

John Mills, cast chairman, and Miss Katherine Di Paola, director, announced that leads in the three-act comedy will be enacted by Ruth K. Mills as Mary Lou Milford, and Frank McKain as Ted Sterling, young inventor.

M. F. Weiss plays the part of John Purdy. Mrs. Augusta Van Swearington and her "lithping" son Robert are interpreted by Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer and Chet Stinson. Weston Fenner takes the part of Prof. Boomer K. Barnsmiller on top mission from Washington.

Carl Kresge has the role of Beulah Potts, outspoken colored maid, and Mrs. George Haffler plays Gabrielle (Gaby) Hopkins, nosy neighbor. Marie McKain enacts the part of Betty Green, breezy young friend of Mary Lou, and Angelo Vianello plays the villain, Titus Pinchem.

In conjunction with Flying High, a popular contest for Tiny Tots up to 5½ years old will be held. There will be two first place winners, with the winners being crowned little king and queen of Flying High on the last night of the show and prizes awarded them. For further information contact Mrs. Elmer Veety, phone 92-R-6.

To stimulate ticket sales among the boys and girls, a ticket queen contest will be held for teen-age girls with the winner awarded a prize and crowned ticket queen on the last night of the show. The best boy salesman will also be awarded a prize.

Acting as general chairman is T. S. Henderson; ticket chairman is R. V. Kresge and advertising publicity chairman is James Gould. Mrs. Mildred Shoemaker is the accompanist.

Other officers elected were Herbert Fisher, vice president; Mrs. Paul Pritchard, secretary, and Earl Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Alan Ryder and Mrs. Ray Chamberlain were named to the board of directors for terms of three years; John Carcione, Mrs. Delmar Moysey, and Charles Wagner for terms of two years; and Hayden B. Pritchard and James Hamm Jr., for terms of one year.

Charles Wagner was elected as the Little League representative. Plans for the association's annual egg hunt were discussed. The date was set at April 17. The event is to be held at the home of Burgess Pritchard.

Bartonsville

March is a month of birthday celebrations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kresge, of Star Route, Bartonsville. On March 7 their son Danny, a pupil in the second grade at the Hamilton Consolidated School, was eight years old. Mrs. Kresge will celebrate her birthday on March 12; and the Kresges' granddaughter, Gail Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hawk, will be five years old on March 17. Mr. Hawk's birthday is on March 27.

Carol Teada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Teada, celebrated her eighth birthday on March 2, when a classmate, Susan Schoonover, was her overnight guest.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-282

DESIGN C-282. One of the three bedrooms in this plan is placed so it can be used as an office, den or study. It is convenient to both front and side entrance and has a large walk-in closet. The kitchen, lavatory, coat closet and basement can also be reached from the side entry.

The other two bedrooms and the bathroom are separated from the rest of the house by the spacious living room-dining room combination. This combination area extends through the house with a picture window at front and rear.

Other points of interest include a fireplace, cabinet over stairs, coat closet, combination kitchen-dinette, a covered entrance, planting area, wide siding and asphalt shingles. The floor area is 1242 sq. ft. and cubage is 22,977 cu. ft.

For further information about DESIGN C-282, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

Fence Can Be Like Frame Around House

By DAVID G. BARETHER,
AP Real Estate Editor

A Fence around your house can be like a frame around a picture when properly proportioned and designed.

At the same time it can serve utilitarian purposes, discouraging cross traffic over the lawn and through flower beds, keeping dogs in or out and protecting children.

The best way to plan a fence is to cruise around your neighborhood, look at other people's fences and try to figure out why they built them the way they are. The right fence can do a lot for the appearance of a house.

There aren't any hard and fast rules for fences. Very often a low fence of less than 3 feet will look the best in connection with a one-story rambling type home, while a 3 to 4 foot fence will seem to be more in proportion to a two-story house. But if there is a utility factor, such as confining or excluding dogs, a 4-foot fence is usually a minimum.

Spacing of pickets also depends on preference and utility. Generally, the spaces between pickets equals the width of the picket. Some people contend that narrower or wider spaces add interest to the design. Narrower spaces naturally provide more privacy behind the fence.

Fence posts for a wood fence should be of 4 by 4 lumber. If your fence is to be 4 feet high, the posts should be 6 feet long to allow for 2 feet underground. The part of the post to be buried should be dipped, painted or otherwise treated with creosote or other wood preservatives to resist decay and the treatment should extend 4 to 6 inches above the ground level.

For the average fence, posts are spaced about 8 feet apart and stringers or rails the horizontal members of the fence framing are 2 by 4s. For a picket fence, the bottom rail is about 5 or 6 inches from the ground and the top rail often is set on top of the posts with the pickets rising above this line.

A smart precaution in building a picket fence is to slant the posts

Rainy Days Provide Perfect Opportunity To Prepare For Coming Of Warm Weather

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Rainy spring days can be spent indoors preparing for outdoor living. There are so many things to do, and this is a perfect opportunity.

Outdoor porch and terrace furniture may be scrubbed and painted, new cushions made for chairs and sofas, tools sanded and sharpened.

Your home may be brightened up in a number of ways, suggests Claire Maxwell Young, home counselor for a large New York savings and loan institution.

Mrs. Young finds this is an excellent time of the year for home craftsmen to display their talents. She offers a few projects for your consideration:

Strictly for the birds... Little wrens will be looking for nests any day and a wooden cream cheese box is the perfect answer. Bore holes along the box, about one inch in diameter. Nail the box to the branch of a tree, keeping the cover intact.

Warning On Lacquer

Most paints and enamels can be applied over other paints and enamels and also over shellac and lacquer. Beware, however, of using lacquer over paint, enamel or varnish. The lacquer will act as a paint "remover" and trouble will ensue.

Cleaner For Copper

A good cleaner for copper can be made by dissolving common table salt in cider vinegar. Add as much salt as the vinegar will dissolve and then wipe the solution over the metal.

of the posts, so the top rail will slant and rain will readily drain off away from the fence. The bottom rail also can be slightly slanted in the same direction.

Use rust-proof nails—aluminum nails, for instance, will mean freedom of rust spots on your fence.

Outdoor End Table... An old nail keg has many uses. One good one is an outdoor end table which you can make with the addition of a plywood top. A 3/4-inch thick plywood board cut round in 2 foot diameter is the surface. Sometimes a lumber yard will have a square or oblong shaped piece that is cheaper and may serve the same purpose. Nail three pieces of wood on the underside of the board to fit the head of the keg. This will help keep the table securely in place. Coat the table with shellac, a base coat of flat paint and a coat of enamel.

Your table may be enhanced further by boring holes at regular intervals in the keg with a 3/8-inch bit, filling the keg with earth and planting sempervivum (liverworts) or vines. The top should be removable so the plants may be watered.

Pretty the mail box... Instead of ugly drawings why not place your mailbox in its own little garden? Just get a shallow box about 2 or 3 inches high and a few inches wider than your box on either side, to form a platform with it in between mail box and pole. Put in a border of wood around the mail box, and fill the remaining space with soil. Put some ivy, philodendron or other vines in the soil. Or plant small flowers.

Mrs. Young suggests you may make use of a dying tree in planning an outdoor walk or patio, but this requires the services of the man of the house.

Make 4-inch thick wood slices which may be placed in an arrangement in a dirt terrace after being creosoted. These should be sunk into the ground the full 4 inches for best results.

Also on your handyman's program could be cement slabs for the patio. These may be made with ready-mixed cement and the addition of color to be found at your local building supply store. Fill a wooden frame 4 inches high and required length and width with the mixture, let harden, remove.

Plastic Like Damask

Plastic draperies are being produced which are hard to tell from silk damask or brocade. They are inexpensive and may be cleaned by wiping off with a damp cloth.

Hard To Trace

Wet spots on plaster walls and ceilings are often caused by leaks in water and heating lines rather than the house walls and roof.

WIL-BOND before Repainting

A glossy varnished or enameled surface should be cleaned and dulled before repainting. It's easy with WIL-BOND. Just dampen a rag with this liquid and rub down the surface. Off come wax, grease and dirt—and the gloss is thoroughly dulled. The new finish spreads smoothly and adheres perfectly—no danger of a streaky, unsightly result.

Powder Room Combined With Laundry Serves Two Purposes

Add to the growing list of dual-purpose rooms the combination powder room and laundry.

This combination makes sense not only for the housewife but also for the head of the family and the children. It means a first-floor location for the laundry, with additional space gained from the bath, and no weary hauling of washing up and down cellar stairs. It means a place for Dad to clean up, and a handy bathroom for the small fry when they come in from play.

Here are some pointers on planning such a dual-purpose room:

1. Locate the combination laundry and powder room handy to an outside door, so that it can be reached without a trip through the living room.

2. Place the washer, tubs and dryer on one wall and the wash basin and water closet on the opposite one.

3. Use a waterproof material for the walls and floor on the room.

4. Select gay, clear colors that will go well with the whiteness and the straight lines of laundry equipment.

5. Plan some storage space in this dual-purpose room. A floor-to-ceiling cupboard is an excellent answer to the storage problem.

6. If the home needs a second bath, a shower stall will take up little extra space in the combination laundry and powder room. To prevent water damage, clay tile should be installed for its walls and floor.

Dry Surface Essential

Oil paint adhesion cannot be expected on a damp surface or on one covered with wax, grease, oil or grime. Be sure all surfaces are thoroughly dry and clean. On new wood, shellac all knots and pithy places.

Aluminum Paint

Aluminum paint consists of minute flakes of aluminum floating in varnish. When spread, the flakes overlap shingle-fashion, providing a thin metallic and reflective surface. Only the best quality is worth using.

HAPPINESS, HEALTH—HERE'S HOW. The U. S. this week is observing "National 4-H Club Week." In Monroe County, 4-H Clubs anticipate a 25 per cent increase over last year's enrollment. Agriculture and Home Economics Clubs will get under way in several weeks. All young men and women, aged 10 to 21 years, should contact the Agriculture Extension Office in the Stroudsburg Postoffice for information, if interested in 4-H work. At the present time there are more than 110 4-H boys and girls enrolled in both agriculture and home-making clubs in Monroe County. National 4-H Club Week is designed to show appreciation for the work being done by the 4-H organizations in building character and leadership in tomorrow's world.

Cherry Lane

Mrs. William Clugston

The grass fire to which the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. was called on Sunday morning occurred near the Clarence Boserker home. A sudden gust of wind made the small fire rapidly spread over two fields and reached the line fence between the Boserker property and that of T. Ben Henry before it was checked by firemen. Adjoining property owners were alerted by the appearance of smoke, including J. M. Fuegel and Fred Henry.

Mrs. Mabel Henry enjoyed Sunday dinner with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keller and son Joel. The trustees and workers of the Cherry Lane Church will hold a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sebring, Golden Slipper Square Club Camp, on Friday night, March 12. Since the last

Former Area Minister Transferred

Delaware Water Gap — Rev. G. B. Wintermute, former pastor of the Methodist Churches here, in Portland, Blakeslee and Pocono Lake, has been transferred from the Summit Hill Methodist Church to a charge in Bird-in-Hand, Lancaster County.

The announcement came prior to the annual Methodist Spring conference in Philadelphia. Rev. Wintermute's transfer is effective March 15 and is one in a series arising from the death of Rev. Pierce Smith of Ardmore, also a former pastor here.

Rev. Wintermute is a native of Mauch Chunk and is married to the former Mildred Young of Pen Argyl. They are the parents of two children.

to speed your out-of-town call

To give wings to your words on Long Distance calls, give the operator the number you want, instead of just the name and address. That way, you'll find that your call to a distant place will travel on a magic carpet with the speed of light.

Calls placed by number never have to be detoured through Information. Fast as Information is, this detour slows your call.

One of the biggest aids in placing calls by number is a personal telephone directory—a handy book in which you can list out-of-town telephone numbers you may have occasion to call. To get one, without cost or obligation, simply call the Business Office.

Pike County Jointure Deadlocked

Millard Discussion of a possible jointure of Delaware Valley Joint School district and the Matamoras Borough and Shohola Township districts slated at the March meeting of the joint board.

It was the latest in a sporadic series of efforts covering the past three years.

Both Matamoras and Shohola boards were present at the meeting. Each had been invited by the Valley board.

The Delaware Valley Joint Board is made up of the Millard Independent School District, Dingman Township and Delaware Township Districts. These three, with Westfall Township District, comprise Pike County's "district No. 1" in the State Education Department administration unit allocation.

Pike County Superintendent R. Lloyd Jones opened the meeting with a brief history of the jointure question to date. The remainder of the meeting was conducted on an "open forum" basis.

Lucien P. Locke, Delaware Township board member, asked that spokesmen for each board be given a chance to make their positions clear.

Mrs. Grace Farrell, Westfall representative, told the meeting Westfall is anxious to enter the jointure but is now seeking the best procedure.

Jones outlined the necessary legal steps. Westfall now has about 120 students in the Matamoras school, not part of the jointure.

Delaware Valley board members made it clear that the present joint board intends to embark upon a building program whether joined by other districts or not.

Present inadequacy of school buildings in the joint district and Matamoras was discussed. Frank McDonald, Matamoras board member, told the group that his board had gone on record years ago favoring a jointure.

The board insisted upon a provision which would place the school within a stipulated distance from Matamoras borough, however, McDonald said.

From this point onward, most discussion centered on the possible location of the potential building.

Before the meeting ended, Matamoras members had promised to hold a meeting for discussion of the proposed jointure at its "earliest convenience" and inform the joint board of its decision.

Jones brought the meeting to a close with the comment that "there isn't any happy marriage which does not have squabbles." Board members were urged to conduct a thorough study of the jointure question.

THE CAR

IN CAR REFUL!

The condition of your car has definite bearing on traffic safety. The condition in which you keep your car is a definite indication of your character and attitude toward safe driving.

Pennsylvania proves this with cold facts that make a heartwarming picture of lives saved and injuries avoided. Pennsylvania's twice-yearly car inspection tells the story. The number of traffic accidents due to mechanical failure of cars is 16% to 18% in the United States. In Pennsylvania the number of such accidents is less than 4%.

However, your responsibility for the safe condition of your car does not end with car inspection. Many things can happen to the safety and signal devices . . . to the mechanical parts of your car . . . in the six-month intervals between inspection periods. Just as your own health can suffer seriously if you ignore the first symptoms of disease—so ignoring the first symptoms of failure in your car may lead to serious safety faults that in turn lead to deadly accidents.

Keep checking these things continually: Lights—for correct beam and focus. Mirrors—for proper mounting and clear vision. Windows—for cracks or discoloration. Windshield wipers—for condition and action of blades, hose and fittings. Horn—for carrying distance of sound. Tires—for air pressure and condition of casing and treads. Steering—for amount of play in steering wheel . . . wheel alignment and front axle for trueness. Brakes—for stopping distance and holding power. Muffler—also manifold and exhaust pipe for leakage.

When necessary, have parts repaired or replaced immediately. The promptness with which you do this is the measure of your regard for your own safety and the safety of others. It is easier to replace a broken stop light than it is to replace a life! A man who takes care of his car will usually take care in obeying traffic rules.

This message in the interest of highway safety is one of a series prepared and disseminated by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue.

Republican Women Hosts To Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon

Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon, of Butler, candidate for the Republican nomination for Secretary of Internal Affairs at the coming Spring primary, was guest of honor at the Monroe Council of Republican Women at meetings held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. Dixon, serving her third term as president of the Pennsylvania Republican Women's Club, was the featured speaker both at the tea in the afternoon and the dinner in the afternoon.

Mrs. I. B. Kiffin, president of the local organization, presided at the meeting. Mrs. John Shotwell, of Effort, program chairman, presented Mrs. Dixon to the audience in the afternoon.

Mrs. Dixon in her remarks, reviewed women's political activities and compared their struggle in the past with the progress made by them today.

The Pennsylvania Republican Council is the only Republican group of women in the United States that is financially independent and the only group that owns its own headquarters (located at Harrisburg) she said. This speaker said was achieved by the cooperation of the executive board and all members assuming their responsibility.

Mrs. Dixon suggested explaining to members why a yearly pledged sum is necessary to support and build up the Republican party. She said women are vital in sustaining the American way of life and playing politics means being a good American.

The speaker declared she felt sure the men recognized the vision and courage of the women which has been proved by the progress made by them since 1923 when the council was formed. The council has never taken part in any of the primaries as a group in promoting a particular candidate, she said.

Mrs. Dixon concluded her remarks at the afternoon session by asserting she would appreciate the support of the Monroe Council of Republican Women in her campaign for the nomination for Secretary of Internal Affairs, but that support must be for her as an approved candidate rather than as an individual.

Mrs. Alford Meyers and Mrs. Eli Travis was in charge of the elephant sale. Mrs. Meyers auctioned off Mrs. Arthur George's prize winning cake, which was bought by Mrs. Dixon.

Mrs. Kitzman, president of the Wayne County Republican Council, was introduced to the 70 ladies in attendance at the tea.

Mrs. Paul Lloyd, chairman of decorations, was assisted by Mrs. Walter Stanard and Mrs. William Gorman. The table was decked out in Spring flowers and pink candles. Mrs. Floyd Bachman and Mrs. Russell Custard were co-chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Kiffin and Mrs. Shotwell poured.

Mrs. Kiffin was in charge of the program at the dinner last night. Mrs. Paul Lloyd gave the invocation and Mrs. Theodore Hsu sang the first verse of the National Anthem, accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Bachman.

Mrs. Bachman presented Representative John Shotwell and Republican County Chairman Ben K. Williams, who gave brief remarks. LeRoy Mikels, candidate for the party nomination for Representative in Congress, and J. Russell Eschbach, Republican County Chairman of Pike County and candidate for the nomination for State Senate, were also introduced.

Mrs. Russell Custard presented guests from neighboring Republican councils and also Miss Judy Cramer, winner of the essay contest sponsored by the club.

Mrs. Kiffin extended the welcome to the guests at the dinner and presented Mrs. Dixon, featured speaker of the occasion. Mrs. Dixon explained how she had been selected to seek the party nomination for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs and discussed the political situation in the state generally.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Actually there are times when I think a newspaper is almost superfluous, the ways news travels by word of mouth. News of a wedding, news of a death, news of a fire, or news of an accident seems to spread almost by osmosis.

Of course we'll have to admit that it's very handy to have the newspaper the next day to confirm the stories and to add some details that we might not have heard, and sometimes to correct the ones we have.

If the United States Army Intelligence could put some of this small-town news-gathering ability to work against the enemy they'd know what the enemy was thinking before he thought it, practically.

The trouble is it only works when the people involved know and care about the people who are making the news. It can be mighty irritating, I know, at times to have everybody in on what you thought was your own secret.

Nevertheless, you'll have to admit that it's the result of a genuine interest and concern, and as such we ought to welcome it. And there are times when it comes in mighty handy—this miracle that seems at times to border on extra-sensory perception.

Berean Class To Buy Marker For Church Area

Bartonsville—Mrs. Samuel Dunbar and Mrs. Margaret Halstead were co-hostesses to the Berean class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School at a meeting held Friday night, March 5.

The meeting opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. Joseph Starner. Mrs. Clyde Beehler read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. Elmer Marsh played the organ accompaniment for group singing.

The pastor, Rev. John B. Bergstresser, spoke on "The True Meaning of Lent." He stated that Lent is the most important of all religious seasons and that most people do not give enough attention to it.

Floyd Cyphers gave a report on the availability of roadside markers and the class decided to purchase one to be placed on Route 12 between Bartonsville and Snyder'sville at the entrance to St. John's Church.

Mrs. Richard Metzgar and Mrs. Clyde Beehler were named hostesses for the April meeting which will be held at the parish house. Mrs. Daisy Allegar will read the Scripture lesson at that time.

A birthday shower of cards and handkerchiefs was given Elmer Marsh whose birthday is on March 18 and Mrs. Daisy Allegar whose natal day is March 19.

Refreshments were served buffet style. Decorations were in the St. Patrick Day motif.

Those present were: Rev. John B. Bergstresser, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Starner, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cyphers, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh, Mrs. Sally Harps, Mrs. Archie Ace, Mrs. Daisy Allegar, Mrs. Margaret Halstead, Mrs. Clyde Beehler and Mrs. Emma Dunbar.

St. Matthews Parent Assn. Plan Events

The Parent Association of St. Matthews Catholic Parochial School, met Monday night in the auditorium. George B. Forster, the president, was in charge. There was a fine attendance.

Due to the Lenten season social features have been discontinued during that period.

Rev. John Esseff, assistant at St. Matthews Church, gave a talk on the "Significance of Lent," bringing out many salient points.

It was decided to hold a party on Monday, April 26, the proceeds from which will be devoted to the hot lunch project of the school.

There was some discussion of paying the children's playground, but no definite action was taken. It will be considered later, it was stated.

The group decided that the profits from sale of refreshments at social affairs be set aside for the purchase of books for the school library.

Peter Margretta, the hot lunch chef, was ill for a week. His place was filled by a discharged soldier from Wilkes-Barre, who happened to be visiting in the community.

One of the features was a guessing cake baked by Mrs. Frank Cracoli, inside of which was an item. Mrs. Pansy, of Main St., Stroudsburg came nearest in the guessing and was awarded the cake.

The meeting came to a close with the benediction by Rev. Francis G. Barrett, the moderator of the group.

Don't Poison Baby

A new non-toxic, non-poisonous odorless paint is recommended especially for repainting such items as cribs, toys, playpens, etc. Colors include Peter Pan Pink, Little Boy Blue, Cinderella White, Elf Green. It can be washed with soap and water.

Girl Scout Rally Plans Completed

The fourth and last meeting of the Juliette Low Committee was held at the Girl Scout home, Sarah St., Tuesday at 4 p.m., with Mrs. Sara Bard, Juliette Low chairman, presiding. Plans were completed for the Rally Day exercises which will be held at the Junior High School, East Stroudsburg.

There are two highlights on the program which will prove of particular interest to the Girl Scouts who are expected to attend in large numbers.

One of these is the movie, "Hands Across the Sea," which will prove of special international interest to the girls. It was stated.

The other is the contribution taking the form of friendship bags with each representative making a wish for another Scout in some faraway place as she drops the bag in the International Friendship camp fire.

If you lubricate nails or screws with soap, you may find it easier than usual to drive them into wood or plaster.

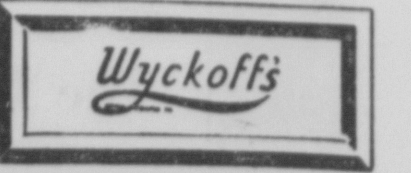

Where fashion is concerned we should all be, if not a howling success, at least a "squealing" one this spring and summer. Believe it or not, we're going right back to the Indians with squaw dresses and Co-Zee Mocs.

What is the squaw dress? According to United Press it's an extremely comfortable and versatile garment and a favorite for years with Indian maidens. It may be worn belted or straight, and has a simple, braid trimmed bodice and a voluminous tiered skirt. One version also features pleats, I'm told. In any case, if you want to see the very latest in fashion's squaws, come in Saturday and visit our sportswear department—there you'll find Carrie Rusk and Doris Hinton dressed in the samples they just couldn't resist when the salesman was here. If you too would like to join the tribe, you'll find the proper ensemble on our racks any minute.

The natural footwear for this attire is the moccasin, and we have some beauties in our shoe department. "Co-zee Moc" is the trade name of these Bootster creations, which are entirely handmade by the blind in Clarksville, Tennessee. Carlton Rohrbach, who knows his shoes from heel to toe, tells me that these are really exceptional buys at $4.45. They are made of soft leathers trimmed in either colored plastic or headwork, as you wish. Both types of decoration are warp-resistant, and the plastic has been painted under the surface to guarantee permanent splendor. These lovable, loafable slippers come in palamino, turquoise, black, red and white, in a full range of lengths but only one width. They may be adjusted to the wearer's foot by a draw string.

If this apparel catches on as the fashion editors predict, you can expect a revival of all types of bead work, silver and turquoise jewelry, and even the Indian blanket. It certainly looks from here as though the Vanishing American looms large on the horizon, and we will all be leaving the school of hard knocks for the school of soft "mocs." All we need now is wampum!

Thirty seven of our Wyckoff customers enjoyed Tuesday's trip to the International Flower Show and report a wonderful day. Our next excursion is set for Friday, April 9th, Institute Day, and will take circus lovers to Madison Square Garden for Ringling Brothers "Greatest Show on Earth." Tickets for fare and show will run about $8 for adults; $6 for children . . . Edna Brockman also reminds me that it's time for all interested travelers to prepare for a visit to our nation's capital during the Cherry Blossom Festival, March 30 through April 4th. If you go, you'll be one of 500,000 tourists those blossoms will attract . . . New in our gift department are small, black pie tins decorated with Pennsylvania Dutch designs and slogans. These sell for 89c and are meant for use as wall plaques. One style is floral, but my choice is another showing a rosy, robust hausfrau with a goose in her arms. Says the caption: "A plump wife and a full barn never did any man harm." . . . Over our Wyckoff radio program yesterday, I suggested that everyone come into Sears today, as Old Timers Days begin, to see the 1944 delivery truck scheduled for display in our furniture department. As of this minute, the delightful old car is still out back in our parking lot. It went down the tunnel into Sears nicely—only to be jammed at the fire door. Wonder if it will end up in my office? Things usually do. Anyway, come in to see it—it puts the brakes on modern times, and starts you remembering. A good thing to do occasionally.

Analomink PTA Given Lunch Report

Analomink—The Parent Teacher Association met on Tuesday night at the school with Mrs. Vernon Powell presiding at the short business meeting.

Richard Harding, the principal of the Clearview school, reported on the hot lunch program. The finances gained during the last month and all expenses have been covered, he said.

A trip through the parks, glaciers and canyons of the western states was enjoyed through the colored slides shown by Mrs. Wendell Wicks whose family toured those states last summer. A luncheon was served, each member bringing a donation.

The next meeting will be held April 13 when there will be an election of officers. The hostesses will be Mrs. Ernest Cramer, Mrs. Chester Van Vleet and Mrs. Max Hess.

Those present were: Mrs. Lilian Wagner, Mrs. Addie Weidman, Mrs. Laura Repcher, Mrs. Grace Transue, Mrs. Harold Naiman, Mrs. Vernon Pennell, Mrs. John Schimmel, Mrs. Gladys Goucher and daughter, Diane, Mrs. Melvin LaBar, Mrs. Gladys LaBar, Mrs. Mae Cramer, Mrs. Melvin Smith.

Also Mrs. Chester Van Vleet, Mrs. Ernest Cramer, Mrs. May Hess, Mrs. Jacob Wolbert, Mrs. Sylvia Bennett, Mrs. Dalton Phitenberg, Miss Ruby LaBar, Mrs. Wendell Wicks, Mrs. Florence Bates, Richard Harding, Vernon Pennell, John and Ronald Pennell, Russell Marsh and Albert Penny.

WSCS Works On Altar Cloths For Blakeslee

Blakeslee—The Blakeslee Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Austin Blakeslee Jr. The devotion was led by Mrs. Dorothy Blakeslee. Mrs. Allen Waltz, president, conducted the business meeting.

Material for season altar cloths has been purchased by the society and several members made them.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and secret pal gifts were distributed. Those present were: Mrs. Peter Hawk, Mrs. Daniel Starnes, Mrs. George Kerick, Mrs. Charles Serfoss, Mrs. Clayton Eckley, Mrs. Grace Bush, Mrs. Allen Waltz, Mrs. Robert Keiper, Mrs. Dorothea Blakeslee.

Barrett Girl Scouts Sell Cookies

Barrett—The Girl Scout cookie sale was on in Barrett on Saturday as in other sections of the county. Miss Edna Elfe, leader, was kept busy all day transporting Girl Scouts from their homes to the stores and back again.

Girl Scouts were stationed at Lewis Brothers, G & S Food Store, Buck Hill Store, and Barrett Branch of the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co.

Scouts participating included Kathie Gravel, Bobby Bush, Joan Wilson, Dolores Barrows, Mabel Harrison, Charlene James, Cathy Ford, Kathy Ravelli, Marianne Stier and Prudy Sieg.

The Girl Scout held their regular meeting on Tuesday when they completed their "ditty bags" for Korea and practiced the songs for the rally to be held this coming Saturday at the East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Swiftwater WSCS Is Cozy In Social Hall

Swiftwater—The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Swiftwater Methodist Church had a chance to test the newly-installed heating system in the social hall last week when they held a covered dish supper there preceding their business meeting. Many favorable comments were heard on the system, which will enable the hall to be used both summer and winter.

Mrs. Willard Carlton, retiring president, presided at the business meeting. The devotional period was led by Mrs. Edith Smith on the theme, "Prayer". Members are saving coupons which may be redeemed for money and are asking their friends to save coupons, too.

Mrs. Dayton Frantz was elected president; Mrs. Ada Willard and Mrs. Harry Baecker, vice presidents; Mrs. Harry Hamblin re-elected treasurer; and Mrs. John Hamblin, secretary.

Plans were announced for April 17 meeting when the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. will give an Electrical Time Saving program under the direction of Mr. Hau and Mrs. Noack, who will prepare meals. The public is invited to the demonstration which will begin at 8 o'clock. A funny-hat contest will be held in connection with it and the public may bring decorated hat or buy one at the auction. Prizes will be awarded. Refreshments of cake and ice cream will be on sale. There will be no admission.

The society will sponsor an Easter Egg hunt for the children of the Sunday School to be held on the church lawn on the Saturday preceding Easter. There were 14 members present for the meeting.

Birthday Dinner For Mrs. Keiper

Bushkill—A chicken dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Stettler in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Stettler's sister, Mrs. Marshall Keiper, on March 7. The event was a surprise to Mrs. Keiper and a cake baked by Mrs. Stettler was presented to the honored guest.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Litz Jr. and children, Ralph, James and Deborah, Ralph Stettler, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Keiper and children Marcia, Richard, Anita, Melva, Dale and Cherry Lu and the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Horton Stettler.

Portland Fire Aux. Meeting At Oliver Home

Portland—The March meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire company was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Bernard Oliver with Mrs. Jennie Oliver, co-hostess.

Mrs. Henry Webb, the president, was in charge of the business meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ann Shoemaker when nomination for officers will take place.

Refreshments were served by the following by the hostesses: Mrs. Clair Shino, Mrs. Joseph Ponetti, Mrs. Andrew Merlo, Mrs. May Rushmore, Mrs. Elwood Baker and Mrs. Sadie Elchorn.

The Right Mrs. Stiff

Mrs. Harold Stiff, president of the Women's Society of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, was the presiding officer at the meeting on Monday night. The name was erroneously listed as Mrs. Horace Stiff.

Brownies Illustrate Girl Scout Law

"A Girl Scout is a friend to all"—was the theme for a special meeting program held recently by Brownie Troop 1 which meets at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. The regular business meeting was followed by the making of a long golden chain—a link for every Girl Scout, either Brownie, Intermediate or Adult who was present.

The Brownies then displayed Tricia Everitt's Brownie Paper dolls representing each of the 32 countries which have a Girl Guide or Girl Scout program.

Each Brownie introduced and described her exhibit from other countries. There were 28 exhibits from Turkey, Germany, China, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Canada, France, Holland, Guatemala, Scotland, and the United States. Songs of other countries were led and sung by the Brownies, who then played and sang a Maori Stick game from New Zealand, led by Intermediate Scouts, Kay Warnick and Jeannette Munson.

All Girl Scouts present joined in the Golden Chain wish of the Netherlands—"I am a link in the golden chain of World Friendship, Scouting; I must keep my link strong and bright."

Mrs. Edith Brown, a special Brownie friend, twenty mothers and friends and the troop committee joined the Brownies and leaders in forming a good-night circle. Brownies repeated the Brownie Promise, Intermediates and Adults repeated the Girl Scout Promise—and Taps was sung by all.

Miss Carolyn Weber

Miss Weber Is Capped For Nursing

Miss Carolyn Weber, daughter of Mrs. Howard F. Weber, of Nutley, N. J., formerly of Stroudsburg, granddaughter of William A. Weber, of Scott St., Stroudsburg, received her cap on Feb. 25 after completion of her pre-clinical period at the Mountaineer Hospital School of Nursing, Montclair, N. J.

She was one of a class of 29 to be accepted into the school at an impressive ceremony held at the First Congregational Church, Montclair, N. J. The Florence Nightingale lamps used in the capping exercises were presented by the Parker, Davis and Company and given to the students as a lasting memento of this important event in their lives.

A reception for the parents and guests followed the exercises at Mills home, where the student nurses reside.

Miss Weber graduated last June from the Nutley, N. J., High School, when she was given a scholarship to the school of nursing at Montclair Hospital. She has a brother, Bill, who will be graduated from the Nutley Junior High School in June.

West End Unit Has Hospital Beds For Use

Effort—The West End American Legion Auxiliary of Memorial Post 307, met Tuesday night at the Pabon Hotel. The members who loaned back their president, Mrs. Anne Shafer, who for the past few months has been taking an advanced course in nursing at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia.

During Mrs. Shafer's absence, Mrs. Beatrice Anwalt, vice president, has been looking after her duties.

The group now has two hospital beds and a wheel chair which are available for any one in the community having need for them. They are in charge of Mrs. Margaret Schubert, Mrs. Anita Werner and Mrs. Helen Kresge.

The Four County Council will meet at Allentown, Saturday, March 13. Any member wishing to attend can get further details from Mrs. Shafer.

The next meeting will be held April 12 in this place. The Pan American chairman, Mrs. Rosa Shupe will be in charge of the program.

WSCS Luncheon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church will have a luncheon meeting on Thursday at noon in the church basement. Members and friends are asked to return their mission boxes so that the mission report can be sent to conference.

There will be discussion and plans for a penny supper to be held soon.

Pocono Grange Fri.

Tannersville—Pocono Grange 1134 will hold an important meeting on Friday night, March 12. It will be necessary to select a new date for the Card Party originally planned for March 19, that date conflicting with the Junior Play at the Pocono School. Other matters of importance will also be on the agenda.

Bake Sale Planned

Tannersville—The Young Adult Bible Class of the St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday School, Tannersville, will hold a bake sale at Metzger's Nu-Way Market on Saturday morning beginning at 10.

Miss Ace and the hostess, Mrs. Loretta Miller.

Invited but unable to attend were: Mrs. John W. Ace, mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Jacob Rodenbaugh, Golden Barnes and Mrs. Thelma Frailay.

Tannersville Methodists To Receive Budget

Tannersville—The Official Board and Workers Meeting of the Tannersville Methodist Church met at the parsonage Monday night with Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Bernard, hosts.

Among the items of business discussed was a budget being compiled by officers of the congregation showing an estimated schedule for expenditures in proportion to income. A copy of the budget will be sent to each member in the near future, it was announced.

The regular quarterly conference will be held at the Effort church Tuesday, April 13 at 7:30 p. m. with the district superintendent Rev. Paul W. Poley, presiding. All members are urged to be present for that meeting.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Bernard served refreshments to the following: A. J. Christman, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howell, Mrs. B. H. Grannacher and Mrs. Horace E. Werkheiser.

Ankle Fad

Charleston, S.C. (AP)—Now it's ankle fad! High school girls are wearing circles of foam rubber inside the cuffs of their ankles. The fad is producing ankles of gigantic proportions.

"The effects are startling, but the girls think it's great," said one. "Why," said one, "the rats (desirable males) wouldn't know you were alive if your socks didn't stick out."

Paint On Tiles

A new tile kit comes with two matching tiles, set in black wrought iron frames, numbered oil colors, brush, overglaze and instructions for painting them yourself. When completed they may be put on the wall, propped on a mantle or used as hot plates.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Another chapter in area athletics came to an end at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday, when Jim Besecker passed away after a lengthy illness. May be the chapter wasn't known to many in the Stroudsburgs, but every kid who has ever swung a baseball bat or pulled on a pair of basketball shorts at Pocono High knows the story well. Although the entire setting is centered in Tannersville, it is well known in many parts of Monroe County, where the athlete and non-athlete has gathered for the past 20 years. In the passing of Jim the sports world has lost a true friend and a real supporter.

Besecker, known as "Shuff" to his multitude of friends, was a constant supporter of Pocono High basketball and baseball teams as long as this scribe can remember. When Pocono produced title winners and pennant contenders in both baseball and basketball, Jim was at the front leading the people in cheers. He was always in attendance at games in both sports, even though the blue and white Pocono flag might not be flying on high in one or another campaign.

Jim was constantly on hand lending his moral and verbal support to the scholastic athletes, regardless of the outcome of the game. He also did everything in his power to make it possible for older athletes to operate, such as the baseball and basketball versions of the Pocono Mountains League. Jim was instrumental in the Tannersville baseball club for one season in the early 1940s. The likeable Besecker was a real authority on sports, regardless of the nature of the athlete or the form of athletics under discussion.

Those who knew Jim will never forget the almost violent manner in which he opposed the New York Yankees and the almost pleading way he rooted for the Boston Red Sox when the Beantowners annually finished second behind the Bronx Bombers. Jim led the world against the Yankees fight, at least the portion waged in Tannersville. Those that made trips to New York and Philadelphia to see major league ball games with "Shuff" will never forget his wit and dry humor and his constant rooting for the opposition against the Yankees, regardless of the club.

Besecker had an army of friends in this area, both adult and juvenile and his recent death brought sorrow to both ranks. Those who have known Jim down through the years will never forget the aid and inspiration he has been to those youngsters who have attended Pocono High School. It's been some firm advice handed out by Jim that has kept more than one kid on the right track and whenever possible the dry humored operator of the Pocono Diner was always on hand to help both adult and child over whatever hurdle might be in the path.

Jim was one of those fine people who has a well rounded outlook on life, especially in the athletic world. "Shuff" was a truly fine golfing companion. He was one of those golfers who relied much less on form than on fighting spirit. Besecker was a marvelous competitor and time after time he slipped into the middle of the picture to turn a match that appeared to be a sure fire victory for the opposition into defeat. He had the marvelous ability to turn even a close match into one of enjoyment, as his dry brand of humor stood out under the most tense of situations.

The former Pocono Diner partner was an avid hunter, both small and large game, and enjoyed fishing greatly. He loved swimming, rode horseback and in general was in the middle of all situations that pertained to sports. Jim was one of the few real Snake Hunters in the area. He annually invaded Pike County to snatch the dangerous reptiles from under rocks and out of crevices in ledges. Telling stories of his hunting experiences formed one of his favorite pastimes, as various adventures in the woods spilled from the popular individual's lips.

Jim will be remembered as one of the four basballing Beseckers. Jim and brother Albert, better known as "Ab", were reportedly good pitchers in their young days and dropped out of active competition before brothers Charley and Clint decided to hang up the spikes. Charley was a hard hitting first baseman, while Clint, who quit the active ranks only two seasons ago, pitched, played the outfield and took a turn or two at third base.

"Shuff" has called it a career and at the present time is being mourned by his family and multitude of friends. The career was short, only 46 years, but his outstanding deeds, his charitable ways and the memories he left behind will long be remembered. His friends range from youngsters in knee pants to men and women bent with age, but to those men between the ages of 20 and 40 in Tannersville and surrounding area, Jim was much more than a friend and companion—and I'm a member of the latter group.

Six Area Quintets To Play In Oxford Tournament

Pen Argyl To Defend Championship

Six area basketball teams will take part in the Oxford Lions Invitation Tournament this season, as an even dozen quintets battle for top prizes on the Oxford, N. J., Central School court.

Four of the area quintets are from Monroe County, while the other area entries are Pen Argyl and Portland. The Monroe County quintets are The Daily Record, L. B. Miller Builders, Barrett Township and the Normal Hill Marauders.

The other six teams taking part in the tournament this year are Oxford Lions, Newton, Blairstown, Phillipsburg Knights, Hackettstown St. Peter and Paul and the Brown-Lynch American Legion Post, of Easton.

Tournament play begins on Saturday, March 20, and the final round will be featured the following Saturday, March 27. First round play continues through March 22, while the quarter-final rounds will be held March 23 and 24. The semi-final battles will be fought on Friday, March 26.

Trophies

Four trophies will be awarded, one each for the top three clubs and the fourth to the most valuable player selected by a board of judges.

Two games will be played nightly, the opener getting underway at 7 p. m. and the nightcap at 8:30 p. m.

Pen Argyl, the defending title holder in the tournament, has been seeded number one in the tournament, while Oxford is second; Newton, third, and Phillipsburg, fourth. Pairings for the opening round of action will pit Barrett against Hackettstown and The Daily Record against L. B. Miller Builders, a week from Saturday. On Monday, March 22, Blairstown will battle Brown-Lynch and Portland will clash with the Normal Hill Marauders. In additional first round play.

In the March 23 portion of the quarter-final round, Oxford meets the Hackettstown-Barrett winner and Newton tangles with the Blairstown-Brown-Lynch victor. The following night two more quarter-final round games will be held. Pen Argyl tangles with the winner of the L. B. Miller-Daily Record victor, while Phillipsburg meets the Portland-Normal Hill winner.

The semi-final tussle is carded for Friday, while two games will be held on March 27. The preliminary encounter will be for third and fourth place and the nightcap will be for the tournament championship.

Commission Fines Bratton

Philadelphia (AP) — Former welterweight champion Johnny Bratton was fined $3,000 yesterday by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission for "not putting forth his best efforts" in a 10-round losing fight with Johnny Saxton last February 24.

The penalty, third largest ever imposed by the commission in its 30-year existence, was announced by Chairman Frank Wiener. It was meted out, Wiener said, after a telegraphed discussion with the two other commissioners.

Murray A. Frank, general counsel for the International Boxing Managers' Guild of New York, who represented Bratton, said the action would be taken to court to "test the validity of the commission's action."

Frank called the move "capricious and arbitrary" and charged that Bratton's "constitutional rights had been violated by the severity of the penalty."

The fine is to be deducted from Bratton's share of his $4,770 purse which had been held the day after the fight. The commission's suspension of Bratton remained in effect.

Those seated, in the same order, are John Wernett, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weiss, the former chairman of the trophy committee; Mr. and Mrs. William Cassati, hosts, and Clinton Getz, president.

Jones Surprises Boxing World With Split Nod Over Turner

By Ralph Bernstein
Philadelphia (AP) — Bobby Jones, an unranked middleweight from Oakland, Calif., scored a startling upset last night with a split 10-round verdict over Philadelphia's flurrying puncher Gil Turner at the Arena. Turner weighed 151 and Jones 155 for the nationally televised bout (CBS).

The 29-year-old Jones fought Turner at his own game, that of furious toe-to-toe punching. The former stevedore and farm boy, making his fourth eastern appearance in nine years of pro fighting, staggered the 23-year-old Philadelphia Negro in several rounds, and opened a bad cut under Turner's left eye midway through the bout.

Judge James Mina awarded Jones the crowd-pleasing bout 5-4, with one round even. Judge Lou Tress gave the winner an even wider margin with a 6-3-1 card. Referee Dave Beloff scored Turner the winner 5-3-2. The Associated Press gave Jones five rounds, Turner four, and scored one even.

Ursinus Keeps Perfect Mark Intact Against Warriorettes

Collegeville — Undeclared Ursinus College's girls' basketball team inflicted a second straight defeat on the lassies of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday, 38-35, here on the winning aggregation's home court.

Daily Record Rolls Over Company 'G'

Daily Record cagers, prepping for the Oxford Lions Invitation Tournament, went on the scoring warpath last night and wound up with a 105-66 victory over Company "G", on the Army court.

The outcome of the contest was never in doubt, as each of the eight Daily Record players broke into the scoring column for a least six points. Five members of the winning club registered in double figures.

Fast Start

Company "G" played the Record crew on almost even terms in the second and final quarters, but the winning aggregation used a huge first period advantage and comfortable bulge in the third quarter to win easily.

Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg High three-letter athlete, led the winning attack with 27 points, while Dave "Muscles" Everett and Dick Little followed with 19 and 16 markers respectively.

Gary "Jeep" Peckman, with 21 counters, was the number one point-producer for the Soldiers.

ESSTC Lists Spring Slate Of Sports

Oscar J. Liljenstein, director of athletics at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, yesterday released the spring sports schedule, involving baseball, track and tennis, the latter for both men and women.

The baseball slate consists of 13 games, seven on the Normal Hill field and six on the road.

Baseball season gets off to an early start on the Normal Hill campus this season, as the Warriors open the campaign with Trenton Teachers on Saturday, April 3, at home. Lincoln University, a newcomer on the schedule, is listed for two games this season.

Tennis

The men's tennis team will take part in six matches, four on the home courts and two on the road. The season opens against Rider College, Wednesday, April 21, and closes against Kutztown on Saturday, May 15.

Five matches are on the schedule for the women's tennis squad, but only one is to be played on the home courts. The season opens with Ursinus at ESSTC on Thursday, April 22. Four matches on foreign courts follow in order.

The ESSTC track squad will appear in five meets, including the Penn Relays on Saturday, April 24.

A date for the ESSTC-West Chester track meet is still pending.

Williams

Optimistic

Cambridge, Mass. (AP) — Boston Red Sox star Ted Williams last night was pictured as "very optimistic about his athletic future."

Dr. Russell Sullivan, the surgeon who officiated at Tuesday's operation when Williams' fractured collarbone was wired, said the Boston bat artist "asked to see the x-rays of the completed operation and was elated."

Chuckle

The surgeon chuckled a bit at Ted's non-professional inspection of the pictures but indicated he agreed with the athlete's opinion of his own case.

Cubs Club Giants

Mesa, Ariz. (AP) — Ralph Kiner hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded, as the Chicago Cubs snapped a four-game losing streak with a 10-7 exhibition game victory over the New York Giants yesterday.

Waymart Bows From Playoffs

LaPlume—Newton Ransom, undefeated champion of the Suburban League, won the District 12 class "C" Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association title on Tuesday, by defeating Waymart, kingpin of the Wayne County Conference, 56-43.

The game was played here at Keystone Junior College.

Upper Hand

Newton Ransom held the upper hand in every period except the second, when Waymart broke into an 11-8 edge, although the ultimate winner maintained a 24-23 lead at halftime.

Waymart was unable to stand the pace in the second half, as Newton Ransom dominated the third round, 17-7, and the fourth by a 15-13 count.

Newton Ransom made good on 12 of 22 charity tosses, while Waymart found the range on 11 of 23 foul shots.

Pocono Mountains Basketball League Brings Season To End

Two games will draw the curtain on the 1954 season for the Pocono Mountains Basketball League today and both will be played on the same floor.

Gray's Chevrolet will meet Williams Pharmacy in the first of two games to be played on the Coolbaugh High court, in Tobyhanna. L. B. Miller Builders and Johnson's Diner will collide in the second contest on the same hardwood.

The opening game is slated to get under way at 7 p. m. and the nightcap at approximately 8:15 p. m.

Williams Pharmacy and Gray's Chevrolet were originally slated to play on the Tobyhanna Township High court, but the floor was found to be unavailable at this date. The Pocono High court was also reportedly unavailable, so arrangements were made to play the doubleheader at Coolbaugh.

Gray's Chevrolet, champion of the first half, will put an undefeated second half mark on the line against Williams Pharmacy tonight, in the final regular season outing of the campaign.

An exhibition contest between West End, currently a member of the Pocono Mountains League, and Getz's Harmony Five, once an entry at the PML, will be played in the Chestnut Hill gymnasium, Brodheadsville, today. Action is listed for 8 p. m.

Top Seeded Teams Clash In Semi-Final Round Of NIT

New York (AP) — Duquesne meets Niagara and Western Kentucky takes on Holy Cross tonight in the first semi-final in National Invitation basketball tournament history which matches the top four seeded teams.

"Cinderella Team" climaxes in the Madison Square Garden tourney have been as common as win days in March since the NIT was inaugurated in 1938. This year the closest thing to a real surprise would be a Niagara victory in Saturday's final.

Fourth-seeded Niagara (22-5) faces Duquesne's top-seeded Dukes (25-2) in today's 7:45 p. m. EST, opener. Second-seeded Western Kentucky (29-1) and third-seeded Holy Cross (24-2) will have it out in the windup starting about 9:30 p. m.

Troublesome

Dukey Moore's Dukes, led by Dick Ricketts, St. Green and Jim Tucker, beat Niagara twice this season but had to go all out both times. The Dukes had to come from behind to win 66-61 in the final of the Holiday Festival Tournament in the Garden in December. They won the next one from the scrappy Purple Eagles, 61-53, at Buffalo.

Duquesne was pressed all the way Tuesday night to squeeze by St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., 69-63. Niagara edged Dayton Monday, 77-74.

Holy Cross' Sugar Bowl tourney kings gained the semi-final with an easy 93-69 win Tuesday night over St. Francis of Brooklyn. Western Kentucky's big, fast-breaking squad had moved up to a 95-81 victory over Bowling Green Monday.

Although his team has been eliminated, Maurice Stokes of St. Francis Pa., has a good chance of taking tourney Most Valuable honors. The 6-6, 235-pound star not only counted 28 points against Duquesne but he annoyed the Dukes all night with his ball-storing and rebounding. He also scored 34 against Brigham Young.

Boyer and Williams combined for 36 of the winning points.

Farm Students Raise Calves As Project

One of the best ways to get and hold a beginning vocational agriculture student's interest is to start him on a project involving animals.

That would seem to be the guiding philosophy behind work now being done with freshmen ag students at Stroudsburg High School by instructor Albert Cross.

Three freshmen boys, just beginning their studies in agriculture, now are keeping accurate records on projects involving cattle.

The students are Lawrence Buzzard, Walter Hoffer and Robert Courtwright. Their projects are the following:

Buzzard's project is "beef calves." He started on Aug. 15, 1953, with purchase of a Holstein bull. On Nov. 2 he bought his second calf, a Holstein-Angus bull. As part of class study he and fellow FFA members have discussed the care of the animals and preparation of equipment in feeding.

Articles constructed by Buzzard for use on the project include a hay rack, rope halter, Records kept by the student indicate the growth of the animal during monthly stages. The older now weighs 350 pounds; the younger, about 175 pounds.

Hoffer has chosen dairy cattle as his project. It was started on Oct. 10, 1953, when he bought a purebred Holstein heifer from Nelson Leet, Wayne County. Hoffer has also made a rope halter to train the heifer for competition in arena fairs.

The monthly records are kept through use of a "dairy tape." The heifer now weighs "about 350 pounds" at the age of five months.

Courtwright also owns a purebred Holstein heifer, purchased on July 6, 1953. The calf was selected and purchased from his father's herd. The heifer has been undergoing training for competition in local fairs during the Summer and Fall months. The calf now weighs 579 pounds at seven months of age.

All three projects have progressed "remarkably well," Cross said. Each provides a practical background for future use by the boys, the instructor noted.

Do They Need It?

Charlotte, N. C. (AP) — The youngsters' clothing section of a department store here startled parents with a neatly-lettered sign: "Suggestive Gifts for Boys."

HOW NOW, Cow? One of three freshman cattle projects in Stroudsburg High School vocational agriculture courses in this five-month-old Holstein heifer owned by Walter Hoffer, Stroudsburg RD. Hoffer is training the heifer for competition in area fairs under general supervision of Albert Cross, his high school ag instructor.

Resolution

At a meeting of the Board of Township Supervisors of the Township of Hamilton, in the County of Monroe, State of Pennsylvania, held on March 8, 1954, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED, that a per capita tax of five per centum be levied upon the taxable property of the Township of Hamilton, in the County of Monroe, State of Pennsylvania, for the year ending December 31, 1954, which tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied by the Township of Hamilton pursuant to any other laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Said tax shall be collected by the duly elected or appointed Tax Collector for the Township of Hamilton in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes levied by the Township of Hamilton, as provided by the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented. The Tax Collector shall give bond secured and conditioned for the collection of such taxes in the same manner as provided for other township taxes.

The entry of said per capita tax in the tax duplicate and issuance of said duplicate to the Tax Collector shall constitute his warrant to collect said tax, and he shall levy said tax as provided by the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented. Such warrant shall remain in force until the tax is collected, and the amount of all taxes in such duplicate as provided by the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented.

The expenses of the collection of the per capita tax hereby levied, and assessed shall be paid and allocated as follows:

35. Action; sufficiency

LEGAL NOTICES

As provided in the aforesaid "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented, the Tax Collector, as compensation for the collection of said taxes, shall receive the same commission as fixed by the Township of Ross for the collection of other township taxes.

The Tax Collector shall give notice to every taxable person whose name appears on the tax duplicate at the same time and in the same manner as provided by the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented. Failure to give such notice shall not render any tax levied and assessed by the Tax Collector null and void, but such failure shall be charged with the said tax as though he had received notice.

In case the Tax Collector shall at any time find, within the limits of the Township of Ross, any resident or inhabitant of the age of twenty-one (21) years or over, whose name does not appear upon the duplicate of the Township of Ross, he shall report the name of such person forthwith to the assessor of the Township of Ross. The assessor shall thereupon promptly certify the said name to the Township of Ross, which shall then promptly certify such name to the Tax Collector reporting such name, whereupon the Tax Collector shall add the name and assessment of such person to the duplicate of the Township of Ross, and he shall collect the tax hereby levied and assessed against such person.

The Tax Collector shall have power, in case of the neglect or refusal of any resident or inhabitant of the Township of Ross to make payment of the tax hereby levied and assessed against him, after two (2) months from the date of the tax notice, to levy the amount of such tax, any penalty due thereon, and costs, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such delinquent, in accordance with the provisions of the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented.

The assessor shall thereupon promptly certify the said name to the Township of Ross, which shall then promptly certify such name to the Tax Collector reporting such name, whereupon the Tax Collector shall add the name and assessment of such person to the duplicate of the Township of Ross, and he shall collect the tax hereby levied and assessed against such person.

The Tax Collector shall have power, in case of the neglect or refusal of any resident or inhabitant of the Township of Ross to make payment of the tax hereby levied and assessed against him, after two (2) months from the date of the tax notice, to levy the amount of such tax, any penalty due thereon, and costs, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such delinquent, in accordance with the provisions of the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented.

The Tax Collector is hereby authorized and empowered to demand, receive and collect from all corporations, political subdivisions, associations, companies, firms or individuals, employing any person or persons owing the per capita tax hereby levied and assessed, or whose wife owes such per capita tax, upon the presentation of a written notice and demand, containing the name of the taxable, or the husband thereof, and the amount of tax due. Upon the presentation of such written notice and demand, it shall be the duty of such corporation, political subdivision, association, company, firm or individual to deduct from the wages, commissions or earnings of any such taxable in its or his possession, a sum sufficient to pay the amount of the per capita tax and costs, shown upon the written notice, and to deliver the same to the Tax Collector of the Township of Hamilton within sixty (60) days thereafter.

The Tax Collector shall be entitled to the amount of the per capita tax and costs, shown upon the written notice, and to deliver the same to the Tax Collector of the Township of Hamilton within sixty (60) days thereafter.

LEGAL NOTICES

As provided in the aforesaid "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented, the Tax Collector, as compensation for the collection of said taxes, shall receive the same commission as fixed by the Township of Ross for the collection of other township taxes.

The Tax Collector shall give notice to every taxable person whose name appears on the tax duplicate at the same time and in the same manner as provided by the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented. Failure to give such notice shall not render any tax levied and assessed by the Tax Collector null and void, but such failure shall be charged with the said tax as though he had received notice.

In case the Tax Collector shall at any time find, within the limits of the Township of Ross, any resident or inhabitant of the age of twenty-one (21) years or over, whose name does not appear upon the duplicate of the Township of Ross, he shall report the name of such person forthwith to the assessor of the Township of Ross. The assessor shall thereupon promptly certify the said name to the Township of Ross, which shall then promptly certify such name to the Tax Collector reporting such name, whereupon the Tax Collector shall add the name and assessment of such person to the duplicate of the Township of Ross, and he shall collect the tax hereby levied and assessed against such person.

The Tax Collector shall have power, in case of the neglect or refusal of any resident or inhabitant of the Township of Ross to make payment of the tax hereby levied and assessed against him, after two (2) months from the date of the tax notice, to levy the amount of such tax, any penalty due thereon, and costs, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such delinquent, in accordance with the provisions of the "Local Tax Collection Law" of 1945, as amended and supplemented.

The assessor shall thereupon promptly certify the said name to the Township of Ross, which shall then promptly certify such name to the Tax Collector reporting such name, whereupon the Tax Collector shall add the name and assessment of such person to the duplicate of the Township of Ross, and he shall collect the tax hereby levied and assessed against such person.

County YMCA Group Leaders Give Annual Reports Showing Large Number Of Activities

Among the highlights of the annual meeting of the Monroe County YMCA held at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church Tuesday night were the reports of the leaders of the various groups operating under the direction of the Y.

The respective leaders were presented by President E. Holt Wyckoff, who commended them for their varied activities.

Mrs. James Farry, substituting for Mrs. Francis Lawson, president, related the activities of the Graduate Sorority. Mrs. Ruth Smith, president of the Y Mothers, told of the progressive work of that group. Al Schaefer, vice president, represented the Industrial Management group and told of the group's work.

Little Robert Caramella reported on the Y Day Camp program. Sandra Smith reported for the Barrett Tri-Hi-Y. Gloria Arnet for the East Stroudsburg unit and Shirley Repsher for Stroudsburg's group.

Dick Hintze gave the report for the Stroudsburg Hi-Y and Scott Shumaker for the Barrett unit.

James Sisco was the representative of the Gray-Y activities. The groups and their presidents are: Skull, Jack Heckman; Panther, Bill Schoonover; Black Hawk, Ernest Kemmerer; and Eagle, Rolf Hiebler.

John DiVivo gave the report on the Y Basketball League which staged its games in the Stroudsburg High School gymnasium.

One of the picturesque features of the program was the series of Indian dances given by a group of boys in costume from the Barrett branch about a camp fire. These included the Kohanso Indian dance ceremony with Jim Hardy as medicine man. Carlton C. Chop, the Barrett executive, introduced the lads.

The reports given indicated that the varied Y activities were being carried out on a progressive program despite lack of central headquarters. Appreciation was expressed to the churches, schools and other organizations making possible continuation of the work among the boys and girls.

President Wyckoff named committees for the year.

Directors and trustees in attendance at the board meeting including President E. Holt Wyckoff, were: Roy M. Houser, Earl Groner, Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, A. F. Everett, Glenn Sanborn Jr., Merle C. Ostrom, Theodore Hoffman, D. W. Frankenfield, A. W. Williams, Rev. F. H. Blatt, Horace Walters, Joseph Kovarik, J. L. Cohen, Alex. Bensinger, C. A. Keiper and John H. Wilson, general secretary.
